Linking San Francisco effort to Homework Starts with Home

- Provided initial inspiration for Homework Starts with Home
- Identified important operational roles for school personnel
- Established critical linkages between identification and response
- Uses rapid rehousing as a key intervention
- Promising results that have promoted replication and expansion

Important distinctions

Heading Home Campaign

The Heading Home Campaign is a $30mm initiative to house 800 homeless families by 2020 as part of an effort to end long-term family homelessness in San Francisco.

Starting points

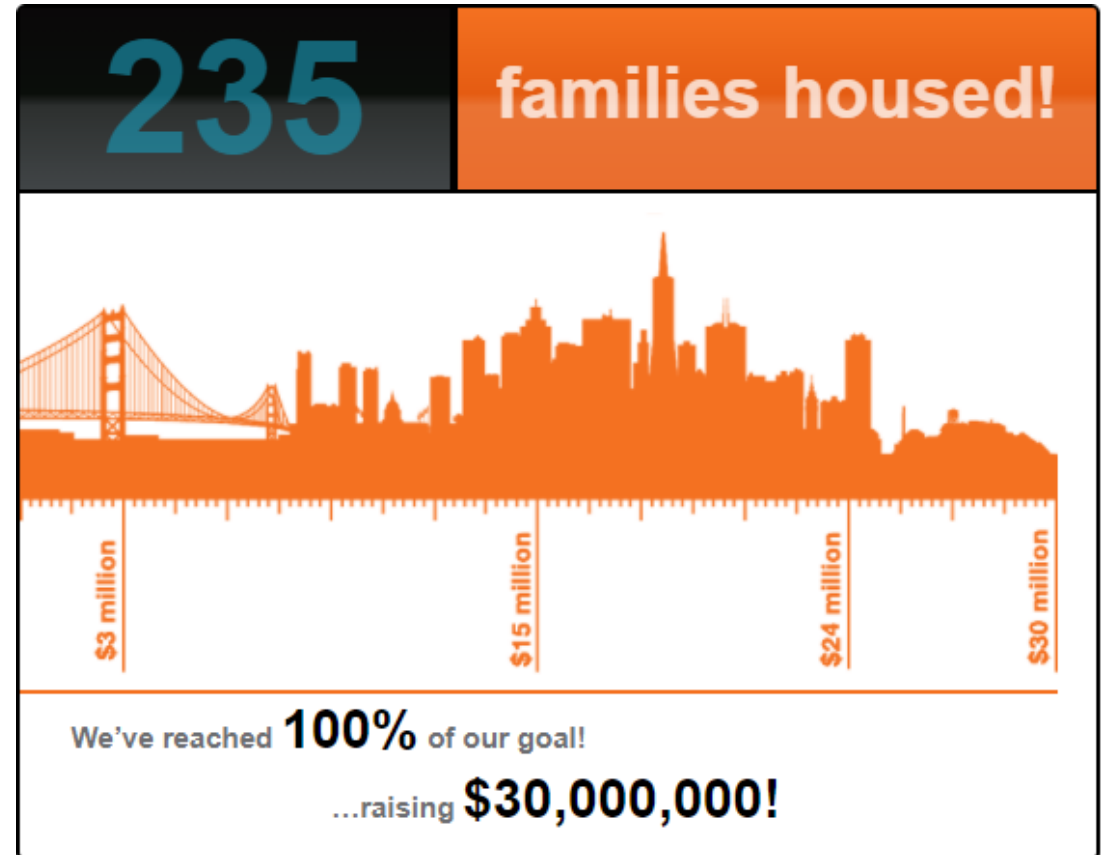

- Could you describe where things are today with your partnership?
- What motivated your partnership?
- What were your key objectives or goals?
- How did you secure funding?
- What initial opportunities or challenges did you encounter?

- Who's commitment or support was essential to make the partnership possible?
- What kind of agreements were needed to solidify that commitment?
- What obstacles or barriers did you encounter?
- How did you overcome them?
- How long did it take to start serving your first families?

- What are the roles of each of the partners in the collaboration?
- What parts of the initiative have been most challenging?
- What role does coordinated entry play in your efforts?
- How are SFUSD's McKinney-Vento liaisons engaged?
- Do you data sharing among partners and if so, what did it take to make that happen?

Replication and expansion

- What have you learned along the way?
- What would you do differently if you had it to do over again?
- What do you see as the next steps or additional refinements you'll implement?
- What advice would you offer programs that are just getting started?
- What has been most surprising or unexpected?
